Get the Shifts

Get the Shifts was founded by Hannah Wrixon and Gillian Rijke in June 2016. The company helps access temporary staff for the hospitality sector, supported by unique innovative technology developed by the promoters. It is based on an easy to use app which connects people to hospitality work shifts on a mobile device.

Hannah Wrixon has been self-employed for most of her life and Get the Shifts is her third business. Clients of Get the Shifts require temporary staff of a high standard but on an irregular basis, and the company helps meet this need in a structured and professional way. They currently have 700 active temporary workers registered and 300 actively working for events and for Get the Shifts' clients on a weekly basis. Clients include Aviva, Thomond Park, Shelbourne Park, Cogs & Marvel and With Taste.

Get the Shifts was awarded the Runner Up at the BOI Startup Awards 2016 and 2017, finalist in Limerick Chamber Business Award 2017 and winner of the regional National Enterprise Awards. Most recently the company won the New Business category at the All Star Business Awards and was accredited with an All Star in 'Innovation in Hospitality Recruitment'.

Get the Shifts' mission is to be the natural choice for any hospitality industry for managing their staff shortages in a fast, easy and efficient way. They currently have offices in Shannon and Dublin, and are building the business to have coverage in every major city in Ireland. They are also planning to expand overseas either directly or through franchising.
