

Orla Reynolds

Orla Reynolds Studio

Orla Reynolds is an award winning designer. Her company specialises in dual function transformer furniture design catering to domestic and commercial clients. Her initial award-winning range As if from nowhere... is an independently functioning modular bookcase, which houses dining furniture – perfect for small living spaces or for those who wish to cater to the unexpected guest. It goes from bookcase to dining, and taking a chair or table from the bookcase is as easy as taking a book from the shelf. The bookcase compartments can be used in different rooms or together as one unit and the compartments are delivered fully assembled.

As if from nowhere... has been featured in publications worldwide including WIRED magazine and has been voted number 1 in Space-Saving Design by Buzzfeed. Orla's products have won international acclaim, including at the prestigious International Furniture Fair in Milan, where the company was named among the Top Influencers at the fair. She has exhibited there in 2015, 2016, and 2017, as well as at London Design Week.

The product range has grown to include further furniture and homeware products, where transformation remains the central part of the design. The business is primarily export driven, and has received Competitive Start Funding from Enterprise Ireland. Demand continues to grow, reflecting a growing need for functional and attractive furniture products in this age of smaller spaces. To date they have sold worldwide to London, Italy, Singapore, Hong Kong, New York and Los Angeles.

www.orlareynolds.com

