

Felicia Awe

SomAwe

Felicia Awe is a dynamic entrepreneur and mixologist extraordinaire, renowned for her passion for crafting exceptional beverages. As the founder and mixologist of SomAwe Limited, Felicia has brought innovation and creativity to the forefront of the beverage industry.

With a background rooted in bio pharmaceutical science and over eight years of technical experience at Intel as a process technician, Felicia's journey began with a solid foundation in precision and attention to detail. However, her entrepreneurial spirit and love for mixology soon led her to pursue her dreams in the business world.

Felicia's entrepreneurial journey reached a pivotal moment with the establishment of SomAwe, a company committed to redefining beverage culture by offering alcohol-free bottled cocktails that elevate every drinking experience. Through her dedication and innovative approach, Felicia has successfully grown her business, with key developments, including the expansion of her product line, and strategic partnerships within the industry.

Her remarkable achievements have not gone unnoticed, as Felicia has been honored with multiple awards and recognitions for her contributions to the world of beverages. From prestigious industry accolades to features in renowned publications, Felicia's impact continues to resonate throughout the beverage landscape.

Looking ahead, Felicia remains focused on the future, with plans to further innovate and expand the reach of SomAwe. With her unwavering commitment to excellence and a keen eye for opportunity, Felicia Awe is poised to continue making waves in the beverage industry for years to come.

www.somawe.ie